All Interested Parties,

The Capital Projects Advisory Review Board (CPARB) is seeking letters of interest from individuals, knowledgeable in the use of alternative public works contracting procedures, to serve 3 year terms on its Project Review Committee (PRC). Terms are nearing expiration dates (July 2010):

CPARB is a state board created (see RCW 39.10.800 and RCW 39.10.810) to provide evaluation of public capital project construction processes including the impact of contracting methods on project outcomes and to advise the legislature on policies related to public works delivery methods. CPARB has created a PRC with members from many different public and private entities with wide variety of backgrounds, expertise and experience.

The PRC was created by the legislature in 2007 to review and approve projects and project teams proposing to use the General Contractor/Construction Manager (GC/CM) and Design Build contracting methods on projects and project teams and to certify public bodies for three years to use these procedures for projects with a total project cost of $10 million. The committee also reviews and approves the use of GC/CM procedures by certified public bodies for projects under $10 million.

For more information on the committee, go to the CPARB's PRC website or the legislation:

This committee may meet as often as bi-monthly. Panels of at least six committee members will be chosen to review project applications and will be expected to review several project applications prior to each meeting. Project applications have been standardized to approximately 20 pages. In addition to completing a project application packet, short oral presentations will be presented to the PRC during the public meeting. Committee members will be compensated for reasonable travel expenses.
